Dear George,

I love the idea of the constitutional challenge to free speech rights of corporations, as if they were equal to human beings. This is an issue I have been interested in for many years.

I would be pleased to attend a meeting on this point, but will be out of the country from August 19-September 11. I could, however, meet in New York on September 12, 14, 15, or 16 (I will be there anyway.)

Let me know if those dates work for everyone else.

Also, you might consider inviting Herb Gunther of Public Media Center to this, as well. Tracy Westen is also a good one for this subject. And Victor Navasky of the The Nation.

Best wishes,
