Dear Dr. Gerbner,

Just wanted to drop you a note to let you know I hadn't forgotten you. My CEM piece is ready to run at The Atlantic. It was scheduled to run in November but has been pushed back now to December for reasons of space. I'm hoping that it will be the cover story. I'll should know for sure in three to four weeks whether it will run then and I'll alert you as soon as it's officially scheduled. Sometime after that (probably in October), you'll be getting calls from factcheckers checking my tracks.

Hope all is well.

Best regards,

Scott Stossel
