

CENSORED

November 5, 1993

Dear George:

Welcome to the 18th anniversary of PROJECT CENSORED and to the distinguished panel of judges who will select the "Ten Best Censored Stories of 1993." Your colleagues on the panel are cited in the enclosed news release; a brief description of the project, including evaluation criteria, is also attached.

Brief synopses of the top 25 nominated stories of 1993 are enclosed for your review and evaluation along with a form to list your personal ranking of the top ten stories. The 25 stories were selected from some 700 nominations received this year from journalists, scholars, librarians, and the general public.

Specifically, we would like you to select ten stories from the 25 submitted and rank them from one to ten starting with #1 as the story you feel should have received much more media coverage in 1993.

While you personally may be aware of some of these stories, we hope you'll remember that you have access to more news and information than do the majority of Americans.

Incidentally, I'd appreciate it if you would comment on this year's nominations for publication in "CENSORED: THE NEWS YOU NEED TO KNOW," the 1994 Censored Yearbook which will be published by Four Walls Eight Windows, of New York.

We would appreciate it if you could review the attached material and return your top ten selections, along with your comments, to us by Monday, November 22. A stamped return envelope for your response is enclosed for your convenience.

And, again, thank you for participating in this worthwhile national media research project. Incidentally, to have "CENSORED" in the bookstores in early April, the publisher requires a completed manuscript by January 15, 1994, so I would really appreciate it if you could have your choices back to us by November 22. Many thanks.

Sincerely,

Carl Jensen
