Hello George:

Summer is past already. I've been working on an article and developing venues for my workshops. The workshops are to help parents/ and families become aware of how television affects their families.

I think you said you would send me a copy of the recent study- I'm happy to send you some money for it-but can't find the original announcement to know how much.

The New York Times is going to publish my letter to the editor sometime these three days. I'm thrilled. It'll be the first time my words get published. It is also the ssecond letter to the editor I've ever written.

I missed the TV coverage of the Violence conference. So it goes. There certainly is a change in the winds about all this. I think you deserve lots of credit for putting the issue in front of us.

How goes CEM? I contemplated asking to do my workshops under the umbrella of CEM--don't think that's quite right, but will certainly market CEM as part of "where to go from here".

Hope you are well. this comes with best wishes.

Annamarie

Hello thanks for the note.

I thought that the word was spelt "soundbyte". Anyhow I'll try to see the show on the 26th.

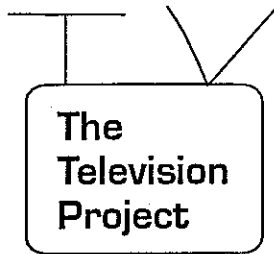

News. I've moved.am now in Silver Spring, much closer to the District.the move has taken a huge bite of time since early November.

I did three workshops in January. No one showed for the first (little publicity and too close to CHristams) Two people came to the second and seven!! came to the third. The ones who came were sure the parking lot would be jammed.

The workshop went well-- I'll do more. Am negotiating with two companies to do curruculums for them as part of their training.

Dear George:

This letter is to formally invite you to serve as a member of The Television Project Advisory Board.

As a member of the board, I expect you to promote the work of The Television Project as appropriate. You would be an advisor to me, the Executive Director.

As the director of the organization, my responsibility to you is to keep you informed of our activities. I am envisioning a quarterly letter to the Board describing activities, funding status, and other matters of interest. I am also considering launching a general distribution newsletter for subscribers to start after the turn of the year.

You have already helped tremendously. I look forward to continuing to work with you.

This comes with best wishes.

Peace,

Annamarie Pluhar
Executive Director
