Dr. Gerbner,

Dr. Pendakur wished me to follow-up with you regarding your visit with us on Friday, Oct. 1st. I have looked into various times and apparently there is not a flight leaving London after 9pm on the Friday. Would you consider leaving early on the Saturday morning? Apparently there is a number of flights between Philadelphia and Detroit but a limited number between Detroit and London. The same problem exists between Toronto to London. The one option we have is to travel by Limo between Detroit and London. If you don't mind travelling by vehicle this is a possible option. You would actually arrive in London earlier if you selected this option because of the layover time in Detroit for the plane.

We are very excited about you joining us for the Andrew D. Osborn lecture. I hope it will be an enjoyable event for you as well. Please let me know what your preferences are for your travel. I look forward to hearing from you.

Dear Dr. Gerbner,

I hope that this letter finds you in good health. It was such a pleasure having you join us for our homecoming weekend and to give the Osborn Lecture. I have heard many positive remarks about your talk. It was not only interesting but thought provoking as well.

I have enclosed your honorarium. I believe the value is in US dollars. If you have any difficulties please let me know.

I have also had a request from some individuals interested in the materials that you spoke of at the lecture. Is it possible for you to send me a copy? I can distribute them to the appropriate people on your behalf.

Thank you again for taking the time to join us at the Faculty of Information and Media Studies. Dean Pendakur also sends his best regards. I thoroughly enjoyed spending time with you.

Sincerely,

Brian Foster
