

Dear George: Greetings from Marin
So I guess it will be a while before a pretty good year -- working out hard on a comic novel or postcard--
When are you coming back to S.F.??

A L E P H

County ... I won't be going to Chicago we had great together ... I'm having many books .. Now I'm trying my erown .. I hope you are well ..
Cheers
Art Berger

Ideas, Iconoclasms, Notions & Strategic Speculations for Thinking People

Favorite Bloopers

NOTE: I am looking for more bloopers for a book that is to be published by Alta Mira press in the near future. If you have any good bloopers to share with me, please send them to me by e-mail at aberger@sfsu.edu or FAX (415) 338-1168 or snail mail.

Vacuum: A large empty space where the Pope lives.

Magellan was the first man to circumcise the globe.

One right Americans enjoy under the Constitution is the right to keep bare arms.

A polygon is a man who has married many women.

Centipedes are bugs that are found by the hundreds; millipedes are bugs found by the millions.

A permanent set of teeth consists of eight canines, eight cuspids, two molars and eight cuspidors.

Queen Elizabeth was known as the "Virgin Queen." As a Queen she was a great success.

In the middle of the Nineteenth Century, all the morons moves to Utah.

Trigonometry is when a woman marries three men at the same time.

In Christianity, a man can have only one wife. That is known as monotony.

A goblet is a male turkey. A giblet is a female one

"Hors d'oeuvre" is French and means "out of work."

The four seasons are: salt, pepper, vinegar and mustard.

H2O is hot water; CO2 is cold water.

Martin Luther died a horrible death. He was excommunicated by a bull.

Arthur Asa Berger is professor of Broadcast & Electronic Communication Arts at San Francisco State University. In 1996 he will publish: Manufacturing Desire (Transaction Books); The Genius of the Jewish Joke (Jason Aronson); The Same Old Story (Sage Publications); Teaching as a Performance Art (Legas); What College Students Really Learn (Alta Mira Press); Morning in America: An Anthropology of Everyday Life (Westview/Harpercollins).

B. 2689

More Favorite Bloopers

Julius Caesar said, "Beware the Brides of March."

An octopus is someone who hopes for the best.

Charles Darwin was a naturalist who wrote "The Organ of the Species."

The Templar urged Rebecca to be his mistress. The brave young girl reclined to do so.

The King of England has the power to decompose a Pope.

Matrimony is a place where souls suffer for a period of time on account of their sins.

Al Capone is the senator from New York.

Donatello's interest in the female nude led to his becoming the father of the Renaissance.

Rome was overthrown by an invasion of Huns, Visigoths and Osteopaths.

The pleasures of childhood are great, but they are as nothing compared to the pleasures of adultery.

Cromwell was thrown from his horse, suffered a fracture of the Feudal system and died from it.

To thine own self be true;
Then thou can be false to anyman.

Ambiguity means having two wives who are alive at the same time.

President Wilson argued for open convents, openly arrived at.

Yom Kippur was a general in the Imperial Japanese Army.