Hi George!

I am ashamed to discover how much time has lapsed since I checked my ASC mail. I am now on-line at the Coast Guard Academy--my e-mail address is flynn@dcseq.uscga.edu--and I now tend to ride the internet there so have inadvertently missed your message of some time ago.

The big news on my front is that after ten years of practice, it appears that I have finally figured out the trick of extending the Flynn blood-line for another generation. JoAnn is expecting our first child in September! We are both very excited about this, although it has been a rough early pregnancy. I am having to adjust to the burdens of child-rearing from the very outset.

Per usual, I am up to my neck in obligations, particularly on the teaching front where I am teaching four sections of International Relations theory. I am also trying to wrap up two chapters for two edited volumes--by the way, is "Invisible Crisis" on the street's yet?--get out letters of references, etc., etc. In other words, it would seem that I am settling into life as an academic.

How is life on your end? I can't imagine that ASC is the same place with your having "retired." I suspect that you are busier than ever. I am very pleased to hear that you are still interested in pursuing the drug-media issue and would be pleased to help in any way that you might think useful.

Give my best to your lovely wife and I promise to stay in closer touch!--Steve

George:

Its hard to imagine that a year has gone by since I left the Annenberg School. I hope you are enjoying your "retirement." My year was a very challenging one and I am glad for the summer break.

I wonder if I might contact you by phone for some career advise. I am seriously reconsidering my decision to return to the Coast Guard to finish up my career at the Coast Guard Academy. It looks like the possibility of my returning to PENN is still alive, and I am very much interested in some sage advice.

I can be reached at 203-444-8369 tomorrow. If its more convenient for you, you can reach me at my home in the evening at 203-434-9847. Also please feel free to leave a time when I can contact you . I will check my e-mail tomorrow afternoon and call you when it is most convenient for you. I look forward to speaking with you soon.--Steve
