Dear George;

I just wanted to apologize for having to cancel our meeting on such short notice last week. While there was no way for me to extricate myself from the meeting which caused the cancellation, I felt terrible having to cancel so late. I am pleased we were able to set up another time so quickly considering your schedule and the holidays.

I look forward to seeing you next Wednesday, December 1st at 3:00pm. I have accumulated the information on the "Critical Viewing" curriculum and am anxious to see what you think of the program. I am also looking forward to hearing about how your organization is moving ahead with its' agenda. Again, thanks for your understanding, and I'll see you next Wednesday.

Sincerely,

Sherri Hope Culver
